

From: william@mta2.srv.hcvlny.cv.net@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 1:15pm
Subject: MS Settlement

While reviewing this document it became evident that the past and current Microsoft Windows (tm) products, not there Graphical User Interface (GUI) platforms, was being addressed.

Fortunately, from a legal standpoint, Microsoft Corporation has begun to transition away from the existing Windows (tm) product offerings.

Recently introduced ".Net" products will replace all Microsoft Corporation Windows (tm) products within the next thirty six (36) months.

Consequently, this settlement and it's multiple year remedies address soon to be nonexistent Microsoft Corporation products.

Any settlement must address this software vendors GUI product lines which include past, present and future Microsoft Corporation product offerings.